for official Praga and Formula K teams*

Ronco Scrivia (Genova, Italy), July 29th, 2025 - Racing Force Group is pleased to announce the renewal of its multi-year partnership with IPKarting (IPK), a global reference in kart manufacturing, through its OMP and Bell Racing brands. The agreement extends the supply of state-of-the-art kartwear and helmets to support IPKarting's official teams and drivers.

Headquartered and manufactured in Italy, IPKarting has rapidly become a top-tier name in the industry, having achieved significant success on the international stage with the Praga and Formula K chassis brands. Since 2023, the company - under new ownership led by Daniel Sliva and Petr Ulbert - has undergone an ambitious reorganization aimed at further strengthening its on-track competitiveness.

The long-standing partnership with OMP and Bell Racing continues to ensure the highest standards of protection, comfort, and performance for official drivers representing Praga and Formula K. The product range includes suits, gloves, boots, underwear, helmets, and accessories. Additionally, the deal includes the development of a dedicated kartwear line for OK1, RS Kart, and Tillotson, the other brands under the IPKarting umbrella.

The 2025 season has already delivered outstanding results for IPKarting, with multiple podium finishes earned by Praga and Formula K drivers in the FIA Karting European Championship and other top-level series.
